

TRUTH GUIDE

Living with a Courageous and Curious Faith

It is time, to tell the Truth. The Bible admonishes the faithful to “tell to the coming generation the glorious deeds of the Lord . . . so that they should set their hope in God...” (Psalm 78:4-8, emphasis mine). Sharing the hope that comes from Truth is my life’s passion.

At Summit Ministries, my team, and I equip and support tens of thousands of young adults every year to embrace Truth and champion a biblical worldview.

We do this through events and courses that are rich with teaching, dialogue, mentoring, and yes, reading. We envision a rising generation filled with the purpose that comes from basing every aspect of life on Truth. It is a special privilege to lead Summit Ministries given its influence on my own spiritual and intellectual growth.

As a young skeptic I spent two weeks at a Summit Ministries event held at the antique Grandview Hotel, nestled in a little hippie town at the foot of Pikes Peak. There, I met Summit’s first president David Noebel, an erudite philosopher and captivating teacher.

“I hope you have a lot of answers because I have a lot of questions,” I bluntly announced in our first meeting.

Noebel didn’t flinch. “At Summit, we aren’t afraid of questions,” he replied.

Instantly I felt at home. Life is complicated. I knew that. Satisfying answers are hard to come by. I knew that, too. But finding a community filled with smart Christians willing to ponder Truth and apply it to their lives? For me, that was a game-changer.
